

Call for Participation

We invite you to join us in London, United Kingdom on July 25-26, 2020 for 9th International Conference on Cloud Computing: Services and Architecture (CLOUD 2020)

The Conference helps enterprises transform business and technology. Companies have begun to look for solutions that would help reduce their infrastructures costs and improve profitability. Cloud computing is becoming a foundation for benefits well beyond IT cost savings. Yet, many business leaders are concerned about cloud security, privacy, availability and data protection. To discuss and address these issues, we are inviting researchers who focus on cloud computing to shed more light on this emerging field.

Highlights of CLOUD 2020 include:

- 10th International Conference on Computer Science, Engineering and Applications (CCSEA 2020)
- 8th International Conference on Data Mining & Knowledge Management Process (DKMP 2020)
- 9th International Conference on Embedded Systems and Applications (EMSA 2020)
- 6th International Conference on Artificial Intelligence and Applications (AIFU 2020)
- 6th International Conference on Signal and Image Processing (SIPRO 2020)
